

A complex phylogenetic tree with numerous tips, many of which are colored blue, green, yellow, and red, indicating different groups or states. The tree is rooted at the top and branches out extensively.

