

A complex phylogenetic tree with nodes colored in blue, red, green, yellow, and cyan, showing a hierarchical branching structure. The tree is rooted at the top left and branches outwards. The nodes are represented by colored circles of varying sizes, and the branches are thin grey lines. The tree shows a clear hierarchical structure with many smaller branches and a few larger, more prominent ones. The colors of the nodes suggest different groups or clusters within the tree.

